CONTAINER SERVICE... AGAINST THE CLOCK

Atlanta, GA – October 2003: We would like to introduce a new customer in Atlanta that hit the dock doors this morning. Our customer sources and supplies paper shopping bags to their client in Conyers, Georgia. The requirements our customer has of us is to pick-up the container at the local rail yard, separate the cases by SKU#, palletize and shrink wrap each bundle, and finally deliver each of the pallets to their client in Conyers within a 48 hour window.

“Executing the project requirements with this first container”, in our customers’ words, “will mean this to be the first of many containers to come into Amware’s facility”. Each container consists of between 1,200 and 1,400 cases of product incorporating 15 different SKU#’s.

By no means was this an easy task. But, the Amware craftsmen at the Atlanta facility got the container unloaded and the product cases into the staging area, sorted by SKU#, palletized, loaded onto an Amware Tractor/ Trailer, and at the end client's dock door well within the allotted project timeline.

Our customer chose Amware because of our service record and relationship with their preferred rail carrier. By executing our service according to the project expectations we have not only proven our continued responsiveness and dedication to the rail carrier, but have gained a strong working relationship with both our new customer and their end client in Conyers.

Everyone at Amware is very proud of the dedication to quality-craftsmanship and customer service that the Atlanta team has displayed on this project. Hopefully each of us have gained from the experiences of one Amware facility and can bring that energy and dedication to your facility in-turn.
